

Information on the declaration of consent

for the recording, use and storage of image, video and sound data for public relations activities of the Universität Hamburg for the conference "Linguistic Diversity: Theories, Methods, Resources. 42nd Annual Conference of the German Linguistic Society" at the Universität Hamburg, March 3rd to 6th 2020

Popular conferences are not only interesting for their participants and the expert community, but also serve to enlarge the publicly available table of knowledge about current developments in science. Therefore, we would like to inform about our conference "Linguistic Diversity: Theories, Methods, Resources. 42nd Annual Meeting of the German Linguistic Society" from March 3rd to 6th 2020 at the Universität Hamburg in the media.

Students of the Universität Hamburg, who support the PR activities of the conference in a follow-up seminar on science communication, will report on the conference especially in the social media. There will be the opportunity to follow the students' Twitter activities live during the conference.

Information on withdrawal

We have asked for your consent to the recording, use and storage of data such as photos, video and sound recordings during the conference in the course of the online registration process. You can withdraw your consent at any time without stating reasons with effect for the future. The withdrawal applies once you declare it to the conference organizer.

You can send your withdrawal by e-mail to: dgfs2020.zfs@uni-hamburg.de. During the conference, please use the paper form on this information sheet and hand it in at the conference office. In order to be able to identify participants who do not agree with the publication of photographic material, they will receive a colored sticker which can be worn on the conference name tag.

Information on the purpose and use of the recorded material

The photo, video and sound recordings will be made, stored, processed and published in the name of the conference organizer, Universität Hamburg, on behalf of the responsible conference manager by members of the Universität Hamburg and / or contractors of the conference management. The recordings are used exclusively for the public relations activities of the Universität Hamburg.

The publication takes place

- on the website of the Universität Hamburg (<https://www.uni-hamburg.de>)
- in (print) publications of the Universität Hamburg
- on social media (<https://twitter.com/DGfS2020Hamburg>)
